Frick Appears in Court by an Attorney-His Arrest Deferred.

The Militia Again Called Upon to Repre Outbreak at Homestead-The oner's Verdict Squarely Against the Strikers

By Telegraph to The Times.

PITTENURGH, Aug. S.—[By the Associated Press.] Hugh Ross, a strike leader, this morning swore out warrants for the arrest of H. C. Frick, chairman; T. F. Lovejoy, secretary: J. G. A. Leishman and H. M. Cory, offcials of the Carnegie Company; J. A. Potter and G. A. Curry, superintendents at the mills; Robert A. and William Pinkerton and half a dozen of their men who took part in the fight at Homestead, charging them with mur-der. It is probable that information will be made later against them for conspiracy to depress the wages of workmen and to incite riot by bringing armed men into Homestead. The were delayed on account of the ting of Frick, and it is not the strikers' intention to have him arrested at present. His young son died today.

Secretary Lovejoy, Vice-President Leishman and Treasurer Curry of the Carnegie Company appeared before Judge Ewing in the Criminal Court, er the place, 113 North Main street W. W. DOUGLAS. this afternoon to surrender themselves. They were released on $10,000 ball each. Messrs. Frick, Nevin, McConnel, Dovey and Potter were represented by their attorneys. The hearing on their application for ball was postponed until tomorrow. Judge Ewing said: I think if the story in the newspapers is true, none of the men charged in the in-formation can be held for murder, cer-tainly not in the first degree. The men in the barges had a right to use all necessary force to maintain rightful possession of bithe property.

Dovey and McConnell, arrested at Homestead, were taken to jail at 10 o'clock and locked up for the night. The statement that Potter was arrested and later released on bail is erroneous and it is not probable he will surrender himself until tomorrow, as it would necessitate remaining in jail over night. It is said the reason Potter did not surrender this afternoon was that the evidence against him is stronger than against the others, he having been on the barges with the Pinkerton men, and, it is claimed, gave the order to fire. As time passed the crowd became more turbulent and word was hastily sent to the provost marshal. He dispatched at once Maj. Crawford with a company of the Fifteenth Regiment. On arrival at the depot the soldiers marched company front, pushing back the crowd, which retired in a surly way. One striker named Thomas Bowen became obstreperons and yelled, "Three cheers for Dovey, d—n him!" Before the crowd could give them two soldiers hastily seized Bowen. He was hustled into the station and placed in charge of two deputies. This stern measure quelled the hostile demonstration. Bowen will be charged with unlawful assemblage and disorderly conduct and probably with inciting to riot. The turbulent demonstration has convinced Gen. Wylle that it would be useless to remove the militia from Homestead for the present.

The Great Planet Observed Last Night by ronomers at Various Observa-tories—The Results as a Rule Unsatisfactory

Bu Telegraph to The Times. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] Prof. Edward S. Holden, in a lengthy communication to the Associated Press from the Lick Observatory, gives an account of the work being done there during the present apposition of Mars. He says that there seems to be general misapprehension as to the character of the work being done. The astronomers do not expect to discover an unknown continent, but after months of work expect to make a new and im-proved map of the planet, just as a surveyor in making a new survey of the State of Arkansas, for instance, would do. Enough material has already been obtained to considerably improve the obtained to considerably improve the existing maps. He says:

In my opinion the time has not yet come to even speculate on the probability of Mars being inhabited, and it is doubtful if the observations yet made are sufficient to enable us to pronounce the planet fit to be inhabited. There is very little doubt that science will by and by be able to interpret all or nearly all of the phemomena and arrive at certainties. Just now it must be confessed that only a few things are known about our nearest planetary neighbor. We have found great changes in the details of the Marttal surface, while the main outlines have remained much the same. These changes have seemed to be so great that it changes have seemed to be so great that it is often discut to explain them by terrestrial analogies. If there are indeed inhabitants on Mars, I think they might be surprised at some of the conjectures which are current on earth regarding their surroundings. If the they might be surprised at some of the conjectures which are current on earth regarding their surroundings. If the white cap at the south pole of Mars is indeed snow and ice, it has been a hard winter for the Martial Esquimaux. If the red areas are land and the darker ones water, there are now two lakes where there was one in 1877 and none in 1879. We are speaking, it must be remembered, of bodies of water some hundreds of miles in area. The facts of observation are correctly given, butexplanation is so doubtful that I prefer to simply recite the facts and reserve the theory. Some time during the present autumn our observations will be finished and maps completed and compared with the first maps of the same sort. It is probable that then we can draw conclusions which are certain and throw new light on this very obscure problem. his very obscure problem.

By Telegraph to The Times. HUNTINGTON (W. Va.,) Aug. 8-[By the Associated Press.] The Republican State Convention met here today. John A. Holt was temporary chairman. The usual committees were appointed and recess taken.

At the afternoon session Secretary of War Elkins was made permanent chair-min, and addressed the convention on national issues and praised Harrison.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions was read and adopted. The platform especially indorses protection; rejoices that the tariff is not involved in the Homestead affair; opposes such invasions by Pinkertons and assures the people that there will be no deputy marshals at the polls in West Virginia this year.

After the adoption of the platform nominations for Governor began. An effort was made to nominate Elkins by acclamation, but he would not enter acclamation, but he would not enter-tain the motion. Atkinson, Duval, Denager, Morris, David and Cooper were nominated, when an obscure little man from Kanawha by the name of Smith, got up and said Elkins was the only man who could unite the party. Then came an outburst. Delegates rose and waved handkerchiefs and hats, and cheer after cheer rent the air. After five or six minutes Atkinson said Elkins wanted a couple of hours to consider the matter, and had taken until 7 o'clock. At the night session Secretary Elk-ins announced that it would be impossi-ble for him to accept. The call of counties for nominations then continued and a dozen more candidates were placed in nomination. Finally, when the first ballot began, three of the candidates were withdrawn. The platform adopted indorses Cleveland and the national platform; calls attention to the Homestead riots as instances of the evils of protection; de-nounces the combination of the Repub-lican Legislature and grain elevator companies of Minnesota, whereby farmers are robbed of the fruits of their hard labor, and favors free and open markets. It opposes State interfer-ence with parental rights and the rights of conscience in the education of children; favors State legislation look ing to better country roads; indorses the six-year term for President and election by direct vote of the people. It calls the attention of the people to the fact that the general wealth of the northern part of the State is not bearing its just share of the public burdens; that non-resident millionaires own iron mines, a moderate estimate of whose value is $20,000,000, and pay less than $9000 per annum in taxes. A VETO.

The Court of Claims Cannot Pass on Land Patents.

Court of Claims jurisdiction in and patent cases.

The President in vetoing the bill says, in part, that the work of the Land Office for the past three years has been so efficient that a large accumulation has been swept away, and the office is now engaged on current business. It seems to the President that the transfer seems to the President that the transfer in whole or part of this business to courts, some of whose dockets are already loaded, cannot tend to expedition, while it is manifest that by reason of the greater formality in the taking and presentation of evidence required in court and the long distance settlers would have to travel, the costs would be enormously increased. As to the concurrent jurisdiction given the district courts and Court of Claims, the President says it is doubtful whether territorial courts Court of Claims, the President says it is doubtful whether territorial courts are "district" courts within the meaning of the bill. If they are held not to be such, the effect of this legislation would be that all suits from the Territories must come to Washington. The plaintiff, it will be observed by act, is also given the option to sue in the District courts or Court of Claims. The President cannot understand why the plaintiff should have this advantage, one not given, as far as he knows, in one not given, as far as he knows in any other law fixing the form of litigation between individuals. Not only this, but the Court of Claims was established, as far as he recalls, wholly for the trial of money claims and has no adequate provision for conducting suits between individuals contesting private rights. Furthermore, the Court of Claims is already burdened since the reference to it of Indian depredation and French spoliation claims, etc. Again, the bill is so indefinite in its provisions that it cannot be told, the Presone not given, as far as he knows, in isions that it cannot be told, the Pres visions that it cannot be told, the President thinks, what function, if any, remains to be discharged by the General Land office.

In conclusion, the President says that he is inclined to believe that if provisions were made as in section 1068 of the Revised Statutes, relating to claims in other departments, for the transfer to a proper court under proper regulations, of certain contest cases, involving questions affecting large classes of claims, it would be a relief to the Land Office and would tend to the more speedy adjustment of land titles, the Land Office and would tend to the more speedy adjustment of land titles, a result which would be to the interest of all people. Nothing is more disadvantageous to a community, its progress and peace, than unsettled land titles. This bill, however, is so radical and so indefinite in its provisions that the President cannot approve it.

ONLY A DREAM.

A Little Girl Witnesses a Horrible Tragedy in Her Sleep.

She Runs Several Blocks in Her Night Clothes to Give the Alarm-One of the Strangest Cases on Record.

A most singular case of sleep-walking reached the ears of a Times reporter yesterday. A Mr. Woods, who resides with his family at the corner of St. Julian and Fifth streets is the father of a beautiful little girl. The child is 11 years of age and is very bright and possesses a vivid imagination. Yesterday morning, just as day was breaking, the little girl appeared at the front door of a friend of the family on Los Angeles near Second street and loudly manded admittance. The family were sound asleep, but were soon aroused and on opening the door they were as tonished to see the child standing on the porch in her night-dress.

One glance at her face told them that she was suffering from some great men-tal shock. Her bleeding little feet showed plainly that she had not picked her way over the rough streets and sidewalks as she fed over the space be-tween her home and the house of her friends. lt was several minutes before she ould get control of her tongue, after she was assisted into the house. The first words she uttered were to the effect that masked men had entered her father's house and murdered the whole family except berself, and she escaped by running out the back way and climb-ing over the fence. The murderers chased her some distance, but finally gave up and returned to their bloody work.

She was so frighteried when she first began to talk that her words ran together in such a manner that her friends could hardly understand her, but a few questions soon convinced them that something terrible had happened, and they started for Mr. Wood's house on the dead run, fully expecting to find every member of the family lying in their beds with their skulls beat in and their throats cut from ear to ear.

They approached the house with pale faces and bated breath. Everything was as still as death about the place, and as the front doors and windows were closed they hurried to the back entrance and found the door wide open.

Then followed a scene that would have thrown the oldest surprise party on record into fits of jealous rage. The surprise on both sides was mutual and startling.

SWARMS OF RUSSIAN FLIRS

They Darken the Lights of St. Louis and Cover the Sidewalks.
[A St. Louis dispatch, July 27.]

Swarms of immense flies appeared last night around the electric arc lights throughout the city. They were almost as large as an ordinary butterfly, but shaped entirely different, the body not being so heavy and the wings much more narrow and as transparent as ether itself. On Olivestreet and Broad-way, where the arc lights were low, these big flies came in such swarms that they shaded the brilliant electric lights and settled upon the sidewalks in such numbers that pedestrians took the street in preference to walking through the beds they had formed of themselves. On Broadway they settled on the posts On Broadway they settled on the posts like bees swarming out of a hive. The fly has never been noticed in this section of the country before in such numbers. Forerunners or avant couriers of the present invasion have been noticed around the electric lights here for several days. The fly is well known in Russia and has always been considered a forerunner of pestilence. This may be simply an ignorant superstition with the unfortunate people of that country, but a Russian Hebrew on the levee insisted last night that the ugly and ungainly thing was always ugly and ungainly thing was always considered a hardinger of pestilence among the people of his country. Nothing could frighten or give them more alarm than the appearance of this fly. The Russian fly may be simply a passing visitor, but there are many people in this city this morning who firmly believe that his coming will be followed with much sickness and that the undertaker will be kept busy.

Protection Unconstitutional.

The Democratic platform this year declares protection unconstitutional. This is nothing new, as Democratic platforms have always declared something unconstitutional. In 1861 it was unconstitutional to send relief to the garrison in Fort Sumter. In the same year it was unconstitutional to try to break down the secession fence, and it was unconstitutional for United States troops to march, through Raltimore on was unconstitutional for United States troops to march through Baltimore on their way to Washington. In 1863 it was unconstitutional for President Lincoln to emancipate the slaves. In 1863 it was unconstitutional to suppress the copperhead newspa, ers. In 1864 everything the Government did was unconstitutional and the war was a failure. In 1879 resumption of specie payment was unconstitutional. It was unconstitutional to amend the Constitution. But the Government went ahead and did all these things and the Democracy accepted them. The party had to declare something unconstitutional this year, and the McKinley Bill, which had and did all these things and the Democracy accepted them. The party had to declare something unconstitutional this year, and the McKinley Bill, which had been passed upon by the Supreme Court, was the victim. After it has been fully indorsed by the people in November the Democrats will claim that was what they wanted.

James M. DeWitt's System of Wholesale Fraud Detected.

His Crooked Career in Los Angeles and Santa Ana.

Out of Thousands of Dollars Nipped in the Bud-Momething New in a Criminal Way;

James M. DeWitt is a name that is familiar to almost every real estate agent in Southern California, besides a large number of men in all business capaci-ties. The owner of the above name ties. The owner of the above name was especially known in Santa Ana and Los Angeles about four years ago, when he was considered a very shrewd business man and financier, and a man of good character. It was not long, however, until his real character began to assert itself and in a short while he began to go down hill, living a fast life and becoming reckless in business matters as well as degraded in social spheres. His young wife soon became disgusted with him and a suit for divorce followed, which resulted in the decree being granted her. After this DeWittshifted from place to place, spending a considerable portion of his time in Los Angeles. Finally he disappeared altogether, nothing being known of him by his acquaintances in this section until about two weeks ago, was especially known in Santa Ana and appeared altogether, nothing being appeared business in this city clearing above experience in the continuous experience in the section until about two weeks ago, when a telegram was received by Marshal Nickols of Santa Ana from G. of obtaining money under taise precises, it was not announced that a daring and extensive system of frauds had been rudely cut off in its early blossom. Sheriff Shores, well-known throughout the West as a terror to fugitives, and who arrested Davenport, tells a story, which, for exhibition of nerve and reckless plunging, equals the wildest dream of a crook's ambition. If the keen-eyed sleuth of the Rio Grande Express Company had not come in as a nightmare at the $10,000 mark there is no telling how far Davenport's depredations might have reached. Can all the allegations be proven?

"About ten days ago," said Manager Kramer of the Rio Grande Express Company, "M. Davenport was appointed station agent at Vance Junction, on the line of the Rio Grande Southern Raifroad. the agent of the Rio Grande Express Company. Not a single day did he lose in using this trusted position to forward extensive frauds. Within twenty-four hours hours he sat down and wrote in his usual handwriting and on the company's letter-heads to firm after firm, not only in Denver. Telluride and other Colorado towns, but also to Chicago houses, requesting them to forward him various lists of goods of every kind and value. To some of these merchants he wrote over his own name, but only when the request was a small one. All his heavler demands were over fictilious names.

All its heavier demands.

Naturally enough, the business houses thus called upon for credit and to forward goods C.O.D. wrote to the express agent as to the financial standing of their would-be customers. Then Davenport would answer that these people were entirely responsible for whatever they thought fit to order. The goods being sent, he could, of course, as express agent, inmediately collar them, and this Pool-Bah omniscience worked like a charm.

Under the title of C. B. Temple & Co. he Under the title of C. B. Temple & Co. he ordered a valuable consignment from Chester, Frost & Co. of Chicago, and as Davenport answered this firm's inquiries as to Temple & Co.'s credit, the goods were sent. As C. B. Fisher he roped in E. B. Rodden & Co. of Chicago for $790. As E. M. Johnson he received from George E. Marshall of Chicago jewelry worth $350. The Roth Importing Company of this city forwarded him $690 worth of diamonds. Other firms successfully worked were

Other firms successfully worked were George Freund of Durango, for $43; G. S. She don of Rico, for $59; Joslyn & Co. of Denver, for $50; Lewis, Son & Barrow of Denver for $26, and several Telluride mer-chants. Up to the date of his arrest, three days ago, some $5000 worth of property, mostly jewelry, had been obtained. Nearly all of this plunder has been recovered by Sheriff Shores and will be returned to its respec-tive owners in due time. He wandered into Telluride and heard that Davenport had ordered two gold watches. Then he watches.

Intestigation into the man s reconseems to demonstrate that he is an old and dangerous crook. His situation was obtained, according to fir. Kramer, by means of letters of recommendation from A. A. Talmage, formerly general manager of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, and which are now found to be forged. Talmage died five years ago.

His real name is said to be James M. De Witt, and Chief of Police Mead of Binghamton. N. In 1887, writes Detective Insign from his position as operator in Santa Anaby the Western Union Telegraph Company for selling dispatches, although prosecution was not pushed on account of sympathy for his wife.

Now it is charged that his alleged wife is the spoose of a wealthy citizen of Binghampton and that he eloped with her from that city. Her name is given as Mamie Temple. When confronted with Mr. Kramer he tried to work the Knights Templar racket. He wore the Knights charm and claimed to have been admitted to that order in Taylorsville. Cal., but the secretary of the lodge in that city says he knows of no such individual. In his trunks were found stamps used in the handling of green goods, and he was turned over yesterday to the Federal authorities.

Davenport was arraigned in the afternoon before United States Commissioner Hinsdale on two charges—one of stealing.
Government property, in the shape of ink stamp markers used in the postome, and the other for using the mails to defraud.

He was discharged on both charges, the evidence not being sumcient to hold him.
The Government showed that he had in his possession three stamps, similar to those used in Government postomees for marking letters, with the names of "San Francisco,"
"New York" and "Chicago," but 4t failed to show that they were the property of the United States.

In the charge for misusing the mails, the fact that a number of alleged newspaper slips, such as are used by the "green goods" men in seeking patrons for their wares, were found upon his person when arrested, together with eight crisp, new genuine treasury notes, and a letter signed "Jess," purporting to come from a woman and to relate to a plan for victimizing other parties, was relied upon by the Government to show his criminal intent, but the evidence was not deemed sumicient to hold him.

As soon as they were discharged by the Commissioner, Detective Shores arrested Davenport on other charges and landed him in the county jail.

Davenport is known to have relatives in Budfalo, N. Y., and it is probable that his wife's husband, if this charge of elopement be true, will travel this way with something tosay.

sible than a tyranny by organized capil. Between the two there is a happy edium guaranteeing justice to each. This embodies the genius of our American institutions. Beyond these limits the sympathies of the great mass of the American people will not go. Just as it is guaranteed to every citizen that by energy and thrift he may accumulate property and rise in the social scale, so it must be guaranteed that, when he shall have risen he shall be protected in the products of his labor. The system is necessarily indivisible. It must stand or fall together. There is no benefit in allowing a man to get ahead in the world if he is not allowed to en joy the results of his effort.

The principle of equity is carried even further when we say that, since the whole people have agreed to protect laboring men in their rights, it is not permissible for a part of the laboring classes to oppress another part. It matters not under what system this clared in its platform that the Governis attempted—call it "organized labor" or what you will. Unorganized labo thority under the Constitution to levy has just as many rights as organized labor. taxes for the protection of industries, thus committing itself to a radical free trade policy, it behooves the people of

A man's a man for a' that. And every American citizen has the privilege under the Constitution to labor and enjoy his earnings. American freedom in its broadest sense demands then, that labor shall be protected not only from the tyranny of capital, but from the tyranny of labor as well. "Organized labor" in the United States under the guise of unions and federated trades has attempted such tyranny both against capital and against labor. In fact, the sort of despotism directed against working people who not choose to affiliate with and sustain the organizations in their extreme course, is more galling and insupportable than any justice attempted against capital. The tyranny of labor against labor is most vindictive and cruel. It tabooes a man and drives him out to starve-not because he has committed any crime against God or man-not because he has proven unworthy in any respect-but because he has dared to assert his rights as an American freeman, refusng to bow down to the imperium in imperio, known as a labor organization. It is against this un-American, unlawful, iniquitous tendency that THE Times has earnestly and consistently protested for a long time, and fought with some measure of success. It is for the rights of citizenship, the rights of manhood that we demand justice and fair play. The sins of "organized labor" are upon its own head. gone too far. It has outraged the principles of American freedom. Instead of standing for the protection of the laboring classes, it has assumed the rôle of tyrant over them; instead of respecting the rights of property, it has overridden them with the audacity of a robber upon the highway.

Such a course is bound to fail. It has produced a reaction of sentiment in the liberty-loving classes of the country which will not stop until the aggressive tendency of labor organizations is checked and they are taught by savere lessons their proper place in the great conomic system.

THE Baltimore American calls attention to coincidences connected with the near approach of the planet Mars (the god of war) which are striking, though not necessarily a proof of the overuling influence of astrology in the affairs of men. On the 7th inst. Mars will be the nearest it has been to the earth for fifteen years. Late in July of 1877 the Pittsburgh riots were attracting attention; in August, fifteen years before, the battles of Manassas wer fought; in the middle of August of 1847 the great battle of Cherubusco, in the Mexican war took place. Mars. certainly, has nothing to do with calamaties and casualties in this country, for convincing lesson to organized labor in they have been as many and as severe in other years and seasons. The coincidence, is, however, striking, taken in onnection with the Homestead and Coeur d'Alene troubles.

He complimented the southern counties on the active work being done by the various organizations, stating that were the balance of the State as well organized he would have but little doubt but what the State exhibit would

He would therefore recommend that some arrangements be made by which Southern California could open up her citrus exhibit; in some of open up her citrus exhibit in some of the numerous buildings the 1st of March to the 15th of April, assuring the asso-ciation that the attendance would be fully as satisfactory, if not better, than were it deferred until the opening of the fair. Newman, on the other hand, evidently had an off day and by two poor throws allowed a couple of men to score. progress.

The committee then adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in September.

Reitz made a good stop of Stafford's hot one in the opening inning, but threw wide to first, and Wright followed with a safe hit; Tredway struck out and Wright went out on McCauley's hit to Sharp, who threw wide to first in an easy chance to retire the batter at first. "Pop" stole second, went to third on Pete Sweeney's error of Glenalvin's hit, which scored Stafford, and stole in on a throw to second.

THE COURTS.

Supreme Court Opinions Received for Filing.

Gibbs' Numerous Land Deal Appeals Denied.

Judge Clark's Decision in the Sar Pedro Case Reversed.

an Reasonably Change Its Bours, but Cannot Exclude so Much Territory as to Practically

The decision of the Supreme Court affirming the judgment and order of Jndge Van Dyke in the case of Charles E. Rising (respondent) vs. Edward A. Gibbs (appellant,) was received from headquarters yesterday by Deputy Clerk Ashmore for filing in this city.

The opinion of Commissioner Foote, which is concurred in by both of his colleagues and indorsed by Justices De Haven, McFarland and Sharpstein, handed down therein is as follows:

De Haven, McFarland and Sharpstein, handed down therein is as follows:

This action is to set aside and cancel a deed, which, it is alleged, defendant, without plaintiff's consent, fraudulently abstracted from a safe, where it had been deposited in escrow by plaintiff, pending the completion of a proposed sale of the land described therein to the defendant. It is further alleged in the complaint that after getting possession of the deed in this fraudulent manner, defendant kept it and caused it to be recorded; that no money was ever paid for the purchase of the property; that defendant refused and still refuses to pay the consideration of the deed so fraudulently obtained and recorded, or to restore the property by reconveyance to plaintiff. It is prayed that the deed be ordered delivered to plaintiff and canceled.

It is prayed that the deed be ordered delivered to plaintiff and canceled.

As will readily be seen the action is, in its nature, to quiet the title of the plaintiff to his property, by ordering a deed to be cancelled, which has surreptitiously and fraudulently come to the possession of the defendant, and had been recorded by him to the injury of the plaintiff.

We think the facts set out in the complaint a good cause of action, and that the demurrer was properly overruled.

The point is made that the findings are not supported by the evidence. The evidence for the plaintiff fully makes out his case, that of the defendant is fiatly contradicted thereto, but seems not to have any weight given to it by the trial court.

The evidence as to value of the land and have any weight given to it by the trial court.

The evidence as to value of the land and the consideration for the proposed sale, was proper to meet the contention of sefendant, that the consideration paid for the land described in the deed, was the sum of $332-95. a small and inadequate price for it, and which the evidence showed on the trial, was a store account owed by plaintiff to defendant.

We perceive no error whatever in this record and are of the opinion that the appeal is totally devoid of merit, and advise that the judgment and order refusing a new trial be affirmed.

JUDGE CLARK OVERBULED.

The decision of the Supreme Court,

The decision of the Supreme Court, reversing the judgment of Judge Clark in the case of F. Wiedwald (respondent) vs. Dodson et al., trustees of the dent) vs. Dodson et al., trustees of the city of San Pedro (appellants) on application for a writ of mandate to compel defendants to call a special election and submit to the electors of San Pedro the question of excluding therefrom certain territory described in the petition was also filed here yesterday.

In a learned opinion on the subject, which is concurred in by Justices De Haven and Sharpstein, Justice McFarland says:

which is concurred in by Justices De Haven and Sharpstein, Justice McFarland says:

. "Passing other points made by appellants, it is clear that the judgment must be reversed upon the findings as to the extent and the proportion of the population which would be excluded from the city if the judgment were affirmed. The proceeding before the Board of Trustees was under the statute approved March 9, 1889, entitled, "An act to to provide for changing the boundaries of cities and municipal corporations, and to exclude territory therefrom." (Statutes 1889, page 336.)

The act was evidently intended to provide for an ordinary, reasonable change of the boundaries of a city, but it was clearly not intended as a means by which a city might be practically disincorporated. It is based upon the theory that the city whose boundaries are to be changed, shall continue its existence, and provides for many things to be done by the city after the change; as for instance, to levy taxes upon the excluded territory. But by the election which the trustees are compelled by the judgment in the case at bar to order, if the vote should be in the affirmative, there would be excluded from the city nearly the whole of its territory, nine-tenths of the population, and four-fiths of its trustees, and the whole number of voters left would "not exceed thirty."

Adding to these thirty voters as many and four-fiths of its trustees, and the whole number of voters left would "not exceed thirty."

Adding to these thirty voters as many resident non-voters as could be reasonably estimated, there would not be nearly one half the population necessary to form a municipal corporation of the lowest class. This would be not to change the boundaries, but to practically disincorporate the city. To interpret the statute as contemplating such result would be to violate the maxim, Qui hasert en iltera, hasert in cortice. The learned judge of the court below would perhaps have adopted these views if he had not felt constrained by the opinion expressed in his conclusions of law that "the court has no discretion to issue the writ." In this view we think he was mistaken. We think that the correct doctrine is expressed in "High on Extraordinary Legal Remedics" (sec. 9.) . . . The case at bar comes within the principle just quoted (State vs. Comm. Phillips & Co., 26 Kas., 419.) it is an attempt to compel a compilance with the letter of the law against its plain intent and spirit. The writ of mandate should not be used to wrongfully wrest a statute from its true purpose.

JUDGE SMITH'S SHORT ERSSION.

JUDGE SMITH'S SHORT SESSION. Judge Smith held a short session in Department One yesterday morning for the purpose of naturalizing several applicants for admission to citizenship, applicants for admission to citizenship, and also took up the case of Emma de Phillips et al vs. Martin Lehman et al, which came up on an order to show cause why an order made on Monday last directing the payment of a certain sum of money to Messrs. Smith and Winder, as attorneys for the plaintiffs therein, should not be vacated and set aside, but owing to the absence ef T. L. Winder, Esq., the matter was postpoued until August 22 next in Department Four.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP. Upon producing the necessary proofs of residence here and taking the necessary oaths of renunciation and allegi-ance Judge Smith duly admitted the folance Judge Smith duly admitted the following sixteen foreigners to citizenship of the United States yesterday: John T. Parker, Murdock McKenzie, Pierre Pouillotte and Richmond Borden, Canadians; Alexander Grant, a Scotchman; Robert A. Taylor, an Irishman; Edward August Reynard, a Frendman; Fred Walter and Arthur Cohn, Germans; Fritz Zimmerman, Jacob Niederer and William Surbeck, Swiss; George A. Nuñes, a West Indian; Richard Leonard Palm and Albert Johnson, Swedes. Judge Clark performed a like service for Andrew Johnson, a Swede, and William Wight, a Scotchman.

DEMURRER OVERRULED. The demurrer interposed in the case of E. V. Haas et al. vs. J. F. Mooney et al. an action for an accounting, was overruled by Judge Wade in chamders yesterday afternoon, the Court holding that the complaint stated facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. The defendant was allowed ten days' time within which to answer.

DR. WONG:

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROFESSIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESB PHYSICIAN, D.B. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if after having been taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition to the regular fac for professional services rendered, makes the physician a present as a touch of the fact of the processional services rendered, makes the physician and present consists usually of stroad plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with character-entirely meaningless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his friends.
It is a motto which highly compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the disservich once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very uncerior medical ability.

All of That Special School Tax Must be Levied This Year.

At Least That is the Opinion of Mr. McLachlan.

Some Happenings of the Past Three Years.

People Continue to Flock to the Mountain and Beaches—The Republican Club Meets Tonight — Brevities and Personals.

On April 15 last the Pasadena school district voted an extra tax of $10,000 for additional school facilities. The board of directors, as now constituted, find that this amount is in excess of what will be needed during the ensuing year. Director Boynton, who is the secretary of the board, was recordingly instructed to communicate with accordingly instructed to communicate with District Attorney McLachlan to obtain his opinion on the following questions:

Must the Supervisors levy the whole amount this year? n the Supervisors levy, say $5000, the entyear (1892-3) and $5000 next year

Can the Supervisors levy, say $5000, the present year (1892-3) and $5000 next year (1893-4?)
Can the Supervisors levy, say $5000, the present year (1892-3) without making any levy next year or thereafter!
The following reply was received yesterday from Mr. McLachlan:
"In reply to yours of July 29, relative to the $10,000 tax voted by your district on April 15 last, I would say that I am of the opinion that, the proceedings being regular, the Board of Supervisors must levy the whole amount this year and have not the power to levy one-half this year and the balance next year, nor levy one-half this year and not make a levy next year. The proceedings taken on the election control in this matter, and the papers show that it was the intention and will, as thus expressed, is the only authority upon which the Board of Supervisors can make the levy."
The above opinion was drawn up by Deputy B. M. Marble. It is no doubt correct from a legal standpoint, and if it is, it can safely be asserted that a good many of the taxpayers of this district will feel like going off to some quiet spot and kicking one another.

The facts of the election referred to going off to some quiet spot and kicking one another.

The facts of the election referred to above are fresh in the minds of all. Many who the previous fall voted against a special tax, which was not carried at that time, at the April election voted for the tax rather than see the schools close, and upon the explicite assurance of the old board that an additional $10,000 would be actually needed to defray the expenses of the coming year. Now these same voters are told by the present board that no such sum as an extra $10,000 will be needed. The board goes further and asserts that $5000 will likely more than cover the ground.

$5000 will likely more than cover the ground.

After the general public had been apprised of this fact it was hoped that there might be a loop-hole of escape by having the Supervisors levy only $5000 this year and an equal amount or nothing at all next year, as the probability is that it will be found that the school can be run within the amount of appropriations as perscribed by law. But the same law steps in and says that as the people have voted, so must they act—hence they will have to come to time this year to the tune of $10,000, whether all of the money, or half of the money or any of the money is needed or not.

A Lively Session of the City Council—Fruit Returns.

The City Council held a regular meeting Tuesday night, and the business coming before it assumed such enormous proportions that it adjourned without getting through and left a large amount to be transacted at the next meeting. The Council gave permission to Mrs. Dr. Hurtt to locate the new fountain at the corner of Second and Main. The fountain will stand on Main just below the crossing which connects Zille's jewelry store and the National Bank of Pomona, and will face the jewelry store. It will be arranged so that ice will be constantly around the water pipes, and the water will, therefore, be ice cold.

Then came some very remarkable proceedings.

F. K. Adams and Maj. J. A. Drimill of the Board of Education came before the Council and explained that as the board had about $7000 more than the new buildings would cost, it had held several meetings and concluded that, as the new buildings had no approved system of ventilation it thought best to put in the Smeed system, which would cost about. $3330 for the two buildings. Adams also explained the workings of the system fully, and said that at the request of the City Attorney he had asked the Council's approval. Then came the remarkable part. The president stated that he wanted to see that the contractor did not steal anything and began catechising in regard to the contract the Board had made. Councilman Gallup also wanted to be sure that no stealing was going on. At this Mr. Adams grew warm around his neck-

Pomona has some returns in the way of fruit that will compare very favorably with the best. A. L. Taylor dried his own apricots and got from 148 trees $450. The trees cover one and a half acres. Mrs. Maggie Rayburn also dried her own apricots. She received 12½ cents per pound for them and her net returns from two acres were $980. Eli Keller's prune orchard, he reckons, will yield 200 pounds, of prunes to the tree. At 2½ cents a pound this would bring $5 a tree. He thinks his orchard will pay $500 per acre. The Packard prune orchard of ten acres will bring from thirty to thirty-five tons of fruit, and Louis Keller's eight-acre orchard will bear about twenty-five tons. The crops have been sold at $50 per ton.

lished in this column yesterday, was at first doubted by many here, but later on it was ascertained that it proved the thread which led to the discovery of the trail.

An officer said to The Times reporter yesterday: "I think Torres will be captured inside of twenty-four hours. We are condent he is not over ten or twelve miles from this city and the forces today are concentrating upon him. The country is rough and every precaution is taken to shut off every avenue of escape."

Several officers from San Diego county have taken up the watch on the south and are guarding the Temecula trail at various points. Riverside officers and several special detectives are patrolling the hills on the eastern slope, while "Keno" Wilson, Constable Landell, Sheriff Lacy, Deputy Buckly and others are forming a line on this side of the ridge.

Torres is being aided by his friends, who send out all sorts of conflicting reports to confuse and mislead the officers, but it is now confidently stated by those who ought to know that his trail has been discovered and that there are only a few hours difference between captors and captive.

Constable Robinson has returned from the other side of the mountains, where he was assisting Detective Insley of Loe Angeles in strengthening the watch line and reports that everybody on picket duty there is on the qui vive and that there is little or no chance for the desperado to make his escape.

It is generally believed that the refugee is surrounded by officers, but the country is so rough that many avenues of escape are open, and it is feared that the officers will find at the last moment that their bird will disappear from view.

Torres answers to the description of the Mexican who shot and killed Thomas Leahey, foreman for J. N. Tuesday evening, in which Dave Sherrard, a driver on one of the street sprinkling wagons, was the principal, and which resulted in the young man's death a few hours after the accident happened.

Sherrard drove to the corral shortly after having finished his day's work and, unhitching his team, as he supposed, unfastened the bridles so that they could go to the water trough. The near horse, a powerful animal, made a sudden lunge forward when his bridle was dropped. The outside trace had not been unhooked, and when the horse found he was rast he became frightened and tried to run away. Young Sherrard tried to stop him, and, coming too near the end of the tongue of the cart, was struck a powerful blow just below the left breast, throwing him several yards to the rear. In falling he struck his head on an obstacle and never recovered consciousness, dying about five hours after the accident happened.

Young Sherrard was 28 years of age and a native of Oregon. He had been married only about seven months. He is a brother of Lincoln Sherrard on Second street, NINTH REGIMENT ENCAMPMENT.

ANAHEIM.

It has frequently been noticed that local correspondents of papers in their zeal to make a good showing for their respective localities, and to get a "scoop" on their rivals, will often publish items as belonging to their neighborhood which really belong to districts miles away; and, further than that, details are given which are often misleading and untrue. In Monday evening's Express, in the Norwalk correspondence, was an item to the effect that the Semi-Tropic Fruit Company had sold their walnut crop, estimated at thirty tons, to a fruit-buyer at 8% cents per ponnd. Now, the Semi-Tropic Fruit Company is lands are situated in North Anaheim or Placentia district, over twelve miles from Norwalk; their walnut crop will be over thirty tons, and was bought by Max Nebelung of Anaheim as agent for city parties, and the price paid was 7 cents, which is a very good figure. Last year buyers were treely offering 6 to 8 cents at the beginning of the season for nuts, and many growers, hearing such accounts as the above of big prices paid, refused to sell and held their crops for a higher figure. Soon after prices fell and those buyers who were misled by reports of big prices were obliged to sell at 4 to 4½ cents or keep their nuts. Mr. Nebelung is now paying 6% cents for small crops, and he thinks prices will not go above that figure. The Prohibitionists will open the political campaign here next Friday night in Kroeger's Hall. There will be music by the Santa Ana Glee Club. The g.o.p.'s don't bother themselves much about Anaheim, but this is a great field for missionary work by the Prohibitionists.

WHAT'S # USE

About competition when we are sweeping the prices when we are sweeping them so clean that every article is a real solid bargain, a cut and slash from regular rates to such an extent that in plain terms we are working for glory. Sweeping our vast warerooms of a lot of stock that must be moved that must be turned into bullion. This is our aim, our present endeavor. We cut below the water's edge, we want to hear the rush, the roar of a busy business; we like the rattle of the restive crowds as they surge in and out of the portals of our establishment. It is merry music to the merchant's ear, more especially when satisfaction is shown on each countenance by reason of our sweeping
